MID-CENTURY ARMCHAIR BY T.H. ROBSJOHN-GIBBINGS FOR WIDDICOMB, 1950S, MODEL 1713

$6,800

This striking Mid-Century Modern armchair was designed by T.H. Robsjohn-Gibbings for Widdicomb Furniture in the 1950s. Exemplifying the clean lines and refined proportions characteristic of Gibbings' work, the model 1713 chair features a gently reclined back, delicately tapered legs, and an elegant, architectural silhouette. It has been newly upholstered in a finely embroidered stripe textile that brings a contemporary edge to its timeless form, accented with a luxe bronze leather welt that highlights its crisp contours. The solid walnut frame has been professionally refinished, enhancing the rich tone and natural grain of the wood. This sleek piece is ideal for collectors and interior designers seeking an iconic, investment-grade seating option with sophisticated vintage appeal. A true classic of American mid-century design.
