

MODERNIST MAHOGANY DINING TABLE BY BILLY HAINES, ESTATE OF KIRK DOUGLAS

1960s	This exceptional modernist mahogany dining table by legendary designer Billy Haines exemplifies his distinctive blend of glamour and architectural precision. The table is crafted in richly stained mahogany and the legs feature faux bamboo detailing, a hallmark of Haines' refined yet sculptural approach. The circular beveled top is not directly supported by the legs but instead anchored to a distinctive pyramidal understructure. From this central geometric form, four angled legs extend outward, creating a striking architectural composition. The pyramid base ensures stability while also giving the table a bold, sculptural presence that elevates it beyond conventional dining furniture. The piece embodies Haines' signature approach—merging classical references with daring modernist geometry. Perfect as a dining centerpiece, entryway statement, or library table, this Modernist mahogany dining table reflects refined craftsmanship and enduring Hollywood elegance. Collectors and design enthusiasts will recognize it as a quintessential example of Billy Haines' visionary style.
