

PAIR OF TABLE LAMPS MADE FROM MOSER GLASS DECANTERS WITH 1970S STRING SHADES

$12,000
Pair

A striking and sculptural pair of table lamps crafted from richly detailed Moser glass Turkish decanters, featuring elaborate gold-accented floral etching and faceted stoppers (17") dramatically repurposed as finials. The bases rest on circular gilt platforms, adding to their sense of regal sophistication. These unique lamps are paired with their original circa 1970s string lampshades, which emit a warm, ambient glow and enhance the textural interplay between glass, metal, and fiber. The amber-pink hue of the glass shifts subtly with the light, showcasing Moser's renowned craftsmanship and timeless elegance. Ideal for collectors of fine glass or anyone seeking statement lighting with a layered sense of history and design. These lamps seamlessly blend Bohemian glass artistry with mid-century style and one-of-a-kind vintage charm.

Provenance: Professionally assembled using antique Moser decanters; with their shades, original to the 1970s.
