

FAUX BAMBOO ARM CHAIR BY WILLIAM HAINES, ESTATE OF KIRK DOUGLAS 1960S

$8,000

A striking example of mid-century Hollywood design, this William Haines bamboo arm chair blends traditional elegance with playful sophistication. Featuring finely carved stylized bamboo legs and arms, the frame showcases Haines' signature neoclassical-meets-modernist touch. Reupholstered in a bold and beautifully scaled archived floral print fabric—a favorite of Haines featuring in many of his interiors—this chair is a standout piece that effortlessly bridges historical reference and contemporary flair. The crimson botanical pattern against a neutral ground adds drama and warmth, making it ideal as an accent chair in a sitting room, bedroom, or entryway. This William Haines bamboo arm chair is not only a testament to Haines' enduring design legacy, but also a functional piece of art. This piece will add both character and timeless style to any interior. This chair was designed for the home of Kirk and Anne Douglas and shares the bamboo motif that was a prominent detail throughout the interiors. See our other listings from the Douglas Estate for others.

1960s

Dimensions

Height:

33"H

Width:

22.5"W

Depth: 33"D

Location

Seat Height:

18"H

Materials

Wood,

Upholstery